INSTRUCTION

Pistol Skills Course

Dennis Carroll

Schaumburg Illinois Police Department

The four hour block of instruction will cover a variety of pistol drills that will strengthen the basics of marksmanship and enhance your overall pistol skills. Those drills will be conducted at distances from as close as 5 feet and out to 75 yards. We will utilize both paper and steel targets in this course. Speed, accuracy, weapon handling, performing the draw from secured holsters quickly, trigger manipulation, watching the front sight alignment, and reloading skills will be emphasized. A timer will be used during this training which places induced stress along with a measurable method of determining your skills. We will also be conducting elimination drills on both paper and steel targets.

Instructor – Dennis Carroll has been a police officer for 22 years and has been a certified master firearms instructor in Illinois since 1988. Dennis holds instructor credentials in revolver, pistol, shotgun, rifle, and SMG and is a certified armorer on several different weapons systems. He is an instructor at the Cook County Sheriff's Training Instructor Basic Academy.*

Bring: Duty pistol, duty carry rig, 4-8 magazines in good working order, and 400 rounds of ammunition.

Applegate Point Shooting and the New Paradigm

Mike Conti - Massachusetts State Police

This course will explain both the process used to create the successful Massachusetts State Police New Paradigm Police Firearms Training Program and why the Applegate Point Shooting Technique is such a critical component of the program. A brief history describing the development of the Applegate Point Shooting Technique will also be provided, as will a block of live fire instruction on the technique.

Instructor – Trooper Mike Conti, Special Projects Coordinator for the Massachusetts State Police Training Section, is the designer of the MSP "New Paradigm" Police Firearms Training Program.*

Bring: Pen, notebook, pistol, spare magazines or speed loaders, duty belt, flashlight, and 250 rounds of ammunition.

Laser Sights for Law Enforcement

Marshal Schmitt – Laser Max

This course will give insight as to the effects of combat induced stress on the LEO and how the laser can provide an edge. Topics will include the history, myths, and advantages of a laser sight system to include training and tactics.

Instructor – Marshal Schmitt has over 28 years experience as an instructor, firearms program and training coordinator, sniper and a member of the Clandestine Lab Response team. He has been a contributor, consultant, and trainer for several law enforcement related companies.*

Bring: Pen/pencil notebook

Close Quarters Defense Strategies: 1-2-3 Hit

Professor David B. James

Many law enforcement officers erroneously believe that they can prevail against an opponent in close quarters merely because they have a gun. The reality of such attacks is there will be little time and opportunity to access the handgun once your opponent has initiated the attack. This block of instruction will focus on some different strategies to better prepare an officer against a surprise attack in close quarters. Empty hand, knife, and disarm threats will be addressed.

Instructor – Professor David B. James is the chief instructor of Vee Arnis Jitsu and an inductee into the Martial Arts Hall of Fame. Professor James is a leading proponent of practical forms of self protection has taught a variety of law enforcement and corrections professionals. He is also the creator of 1-2-3 Hit Self Defense Techniques.*

Bring: Duty belt and training handgun (red gun) if available baton, and clothing suitable for vigorous physical activity.

*Optional EVENING PROGRAM*

Tactical Problem Solving

Fernando Trujillo

Union City New Jersey Police Department

Do your students experience weapon hang-ups that cause them to fumble and lose track of the real problem at hand? Are they wasting valuable time on operational skills when they should be shooting? The primary cause of weapon unfamiliarity is a lack of proper basic weapon handling skills. Students will be reacquainted with the basics plus a few new tricks. Skills will be assessed through several timed live fire drills.

Instructor – Fernando Trujillo is a full time firearms instructor with the Union City New Jersey Police Department and a serious student of combat pistol craft. Fernando has completed training at several of the well known firearms schools.*

Bring: Pistol, duty gear, 100 rounds of pistol ammo, shotgun will 50 rounds of 00 buck. (Shotguns will be available if needed.)
